This application is before the examiner for consideration.

A.1. Claims 1-13 are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising many possible species of the general alkanolamines. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for an initiation of a search, even though this requirement is traversed.

2. Claims 3-4 and 10 are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising many possible species of the general alkali compounds. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for an initiation of a search, even though this requirement is traversed.

3. Claims 5-6 and 10 are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising many possible species of the general organic solvents. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for an initiation of a search, even though this requirement is traversed.

4. Claims 5-8 and 10 are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising many possible species of the general anticorrosion agent. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for an initiation of a search, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

B. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-2 and 11-13, drawn to reacted product and process for obtaining the product, classified in class 564, subclass 502. If applicant elected this invention, the application may have to be transferred to a different Technology Center.
- II. Claims 3-11, drawn to a photoresist stripping composition, classified in class 430, subclass 256.

Inventions of Group I and Group II are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because combination such as any of the dependent claims 3-10 can be separately patented by itself as separately set up other than on claim 1. The subcombination has separate utility such as fertilizing or corrosive inhibiting agent other than a photoresist stripping composition in any of claims 3-6 and 10. Applicant should show or provide a convincing evidence to the contrary. Otherwise, the restriction on the record would not be removed.

There is no evidence on the record they do not require separate searches because they are not patentably different or distinct. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

C. Other issues have not been considered until proper elections are made and resolved. However, it is suggested that (1) a compound is used for an agent and (2) a composition is used for a mixture of compounds or agents. There will be no consideration or search of a composition for an agent as that in the claims. It is now notified for the record. Accordingly, a correction should be made in the next response to this Office action.

D. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Hoa V. Le whose telephone number is 571-272-1332. The examiner can normally be reached from 6:30 AM to 4:30 PM on Monday through Thursday and about the same time of most Friday.
